THE IMPEACHMENT COMMITTEE.

Messrs. Boutwell, Thomas, Woolbridge, Marshall, and Lawrence, of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives were to have met here to-day to proceed with the consideration of the impeachment question; but only Messrs. Thomas and Marshall were in the committee room. The other members are expected in a few days. The evidence, as far as it has been taken, has been printed and furnished to the members of the committee.—Gen. Baker is to be recalled to explain parts of his testimony. It is said that this witness not only contradicted himself, but in every material fact is contradicted by numerous witnesses.—The testimony given by Gen. Grant is, perhaps, the most interesting yet taken by the committee. It was with some difficulty the General was brought to the stand, believing it is said, that some effort would be made to draw from him his political views. After a week's delay the General was sworn, and testified that he was consulted by President Lincoln on the subject of restoring the State of North Carolina to her former relations to the Union; that Mr. Lincoln read him a proclamation he had prepared on the subject, and that the proclamation issued by President Johnson relative to the State of North Carolina was identical to the one which Mr. Lincoln had read to him just prior to his death. It is further said that he had also drafted a proclamation on this subject, but he failed to furnish the committee with a copy, although he promised to do so, if it could be done. This becomes important, in view of the fact that the advocates of impeachment rest their case principally upon the policy of the President in restoring the Southern States. The Judiciary Committee, it is understood, stand five to four against impeachment, and the majority report will be made by the chairman, Hon. James Wilson, of Iowa. The four members favoring impeachment will probably each make a separate report, taking the ground that the reconstruction policy of the President was violative of the Constitution, and that the restoration of certain railroad property in Tennessee was from mercenary considerations, and without authority of law. The minority profess to find the mercenary considerations in the fact that one of the conditions of restoration was the securing of certain bonds, for which the faith of Tennessee was bound, and a portion of which the President held.—Wash. Cor. Boston Post.

RADICAL PROGRAMME.

The second session of the Fortieth Congress will convene in a few weeks, and their various political committees are preparing, it is said, to make such reports as may be thought expedient for the purposes of their party.
The work for the session has already been carried out by the party leaders, who have been busily engaged of late in promulgating the party programme and dictating the order of the performance. The House is to pass immediately a bill regulating impeachments, by which it will be provided that any public officer impeached shall be liable, upon an order of the Senate, to arrest, imprisonment, and suspension from the exercise of official functions. This bill is to be passed, of course, by a two-thirds majority in both Houses. The House will then present articles of impeachment, founded upon the allegations that the President is politically opposed to them, and Senator Wade, President pro tem. of the Senate, will succeed him.
The Senate is to send the suspended Secretary of War, Mr. Stanton, back to the War Office forthwith. Stanton will bring forward his bill to establish negro suffrage by congressional order in all the States; and as nearly every State will resist it, Senator Wilson is to introduce a bill for raising five hundred regiments of black troops to enable President Wade to execute the law.
Several additional bounty bills, appropriating from fifty to four hundred millions each, for the purchase of soldiers' votes, and the influence of bounty agents, will be then passed. The subject of reconstruction will be closely considered, and something attempted to ensure and carry out Senator Wilson's assertion, that seven, eight, or ten of the excluded States shall read Radical Senators and Representatives to Congress, and also support the Radical candidate for the Presidency. Sheridan and Sickles are to be sent back to the posts from which they have been relieved.
The session is to continue till March 4th, 1869; that is, until the new Radical President shall be inaugurated.
Such is the programme of the Radical leaders for the coming session.—Nat. Int.

DEATH FROM CORPULENCY.

On Tuesday last, Miss Mary Davis, residing on Washington street, aged about twenty-five years, died from excessive corpulence. She had been confined to her bed nearly nine months last winter, and suffered much during the latter part of her life. Her appetite was good to the last, and she had no apparent disease save that of an excessive accumulation of flesh.—Frederick Express.

A COLORED WOMAN'S RIGHT OF DOWER.

An interesting and novel case was decided by Judge Sheffer at the recent term of our Circuit Court. Reuben Howard, a free negro, "acquired" his wife Milly, a slave, by purchase some years before he died. By his will, of date March 4th, 1854, he emancipated his wife at his death. He died in 1863, and his estate is not sufficient to pay his debts if his wife is entitled to dower. This was the question in the case. Judge Sheffer decided that she is.—Lexington Gazette.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Without making a useless harangue, I will say to my friends and the public that I am now prepared to supply all their wants in the way of STOVES. It is time lost to undertake to look for anything better than can be found in my store. I have something new in the way of HEATING STOVES, which cannot be surpassed in style, or beauty of design. To one and all I will say that whatever I sell I warrant to answer the purpose I sold it for. I therefore invite my country friends to call and examine my stock of COOKING and HEATING STOVES before purchasing elsewhere, confident that they will not go away displeased. I would also enumerate amongst my stock a fine lot of TIN WARE, of my own manufacture, and made by very experienced workmen; also, TINNED SALES, PRESERVING KETTLES, Fruit Cans, Fine Japanned and Platinized Ware and Chamber Sets, to which I would call the attention of the public. Coffee Urns, Tea Urns, Waffle Irons, Children's Toys, and a fine lot of Block Tin Ware and other articles which are too numerous to mention.—Thankful for past patronage I hope to have a continuance of the same.
